The pursuit of this body of work is to document the ongoing flux of novel events that I experience. My goal is to share my perception of the world so that others can see the beauty, color, and humor.

Colin's playfulness and sense of humor is explored throughout his approach to photography. His work is a nod to the art of serendipity, and embraces the zany and peculiar in every day spaces. He challenges one to view mundane surroundings as a child on vacation would, with perhaps minimal effort, but ready to be amused.
